Who Are Not Authorized to Practice Due to Recent Change in Status

ARDC has created an online lookup to identify lawyers who are not authorized to practice due to recent status changes, including orders of discipline or disability, MCLE removal, or ARDC registration changes (i.e. removal due to noncompliance or transfers to inactive or retirement status). The lookup is accessible from the ARDC home page at www.iardc.org as well as from the general Lawyer Search lookup page at www.iardc.org/lawyersearch.asp, which is also available from the ARDC home page.

- This search will return a list of lawyers whose status has changed in the last year regardless of their location.

Search Tips

Enter broad search terms first

If you enter too many search terms, your search may be too restrictive and may not return the desired results. Begin with a broad search and if you get too many results, you can easily narrow the search.

When you don't know the spelling of a lawyer's name

If you don't know the correct spelling of the lawyer's name, you can begin by entering just the first letter. This will return a list of all lawyers matching the other criteria (time frame and location) whose last names begin with that letter. You can then scroll through the list to find the name.
